

Call for Nominations Available for 4th Annual FairfieldDD Celebration of Possibilities

The form is available to nominate a business, service organization or individual for one of six awards to be presented at the 4th Annual Celebration of Possibilities awards dinner, presented by the Fairfield County Board of Developmental Disabilities. The banquet is scheduled for Thursday, March 29, at 6 p.m. at the Crossroads Center in Lancaster. To learn more about the awards program, to review the six award categories or to download the nomination form, visit www.FairfieldDD.com.

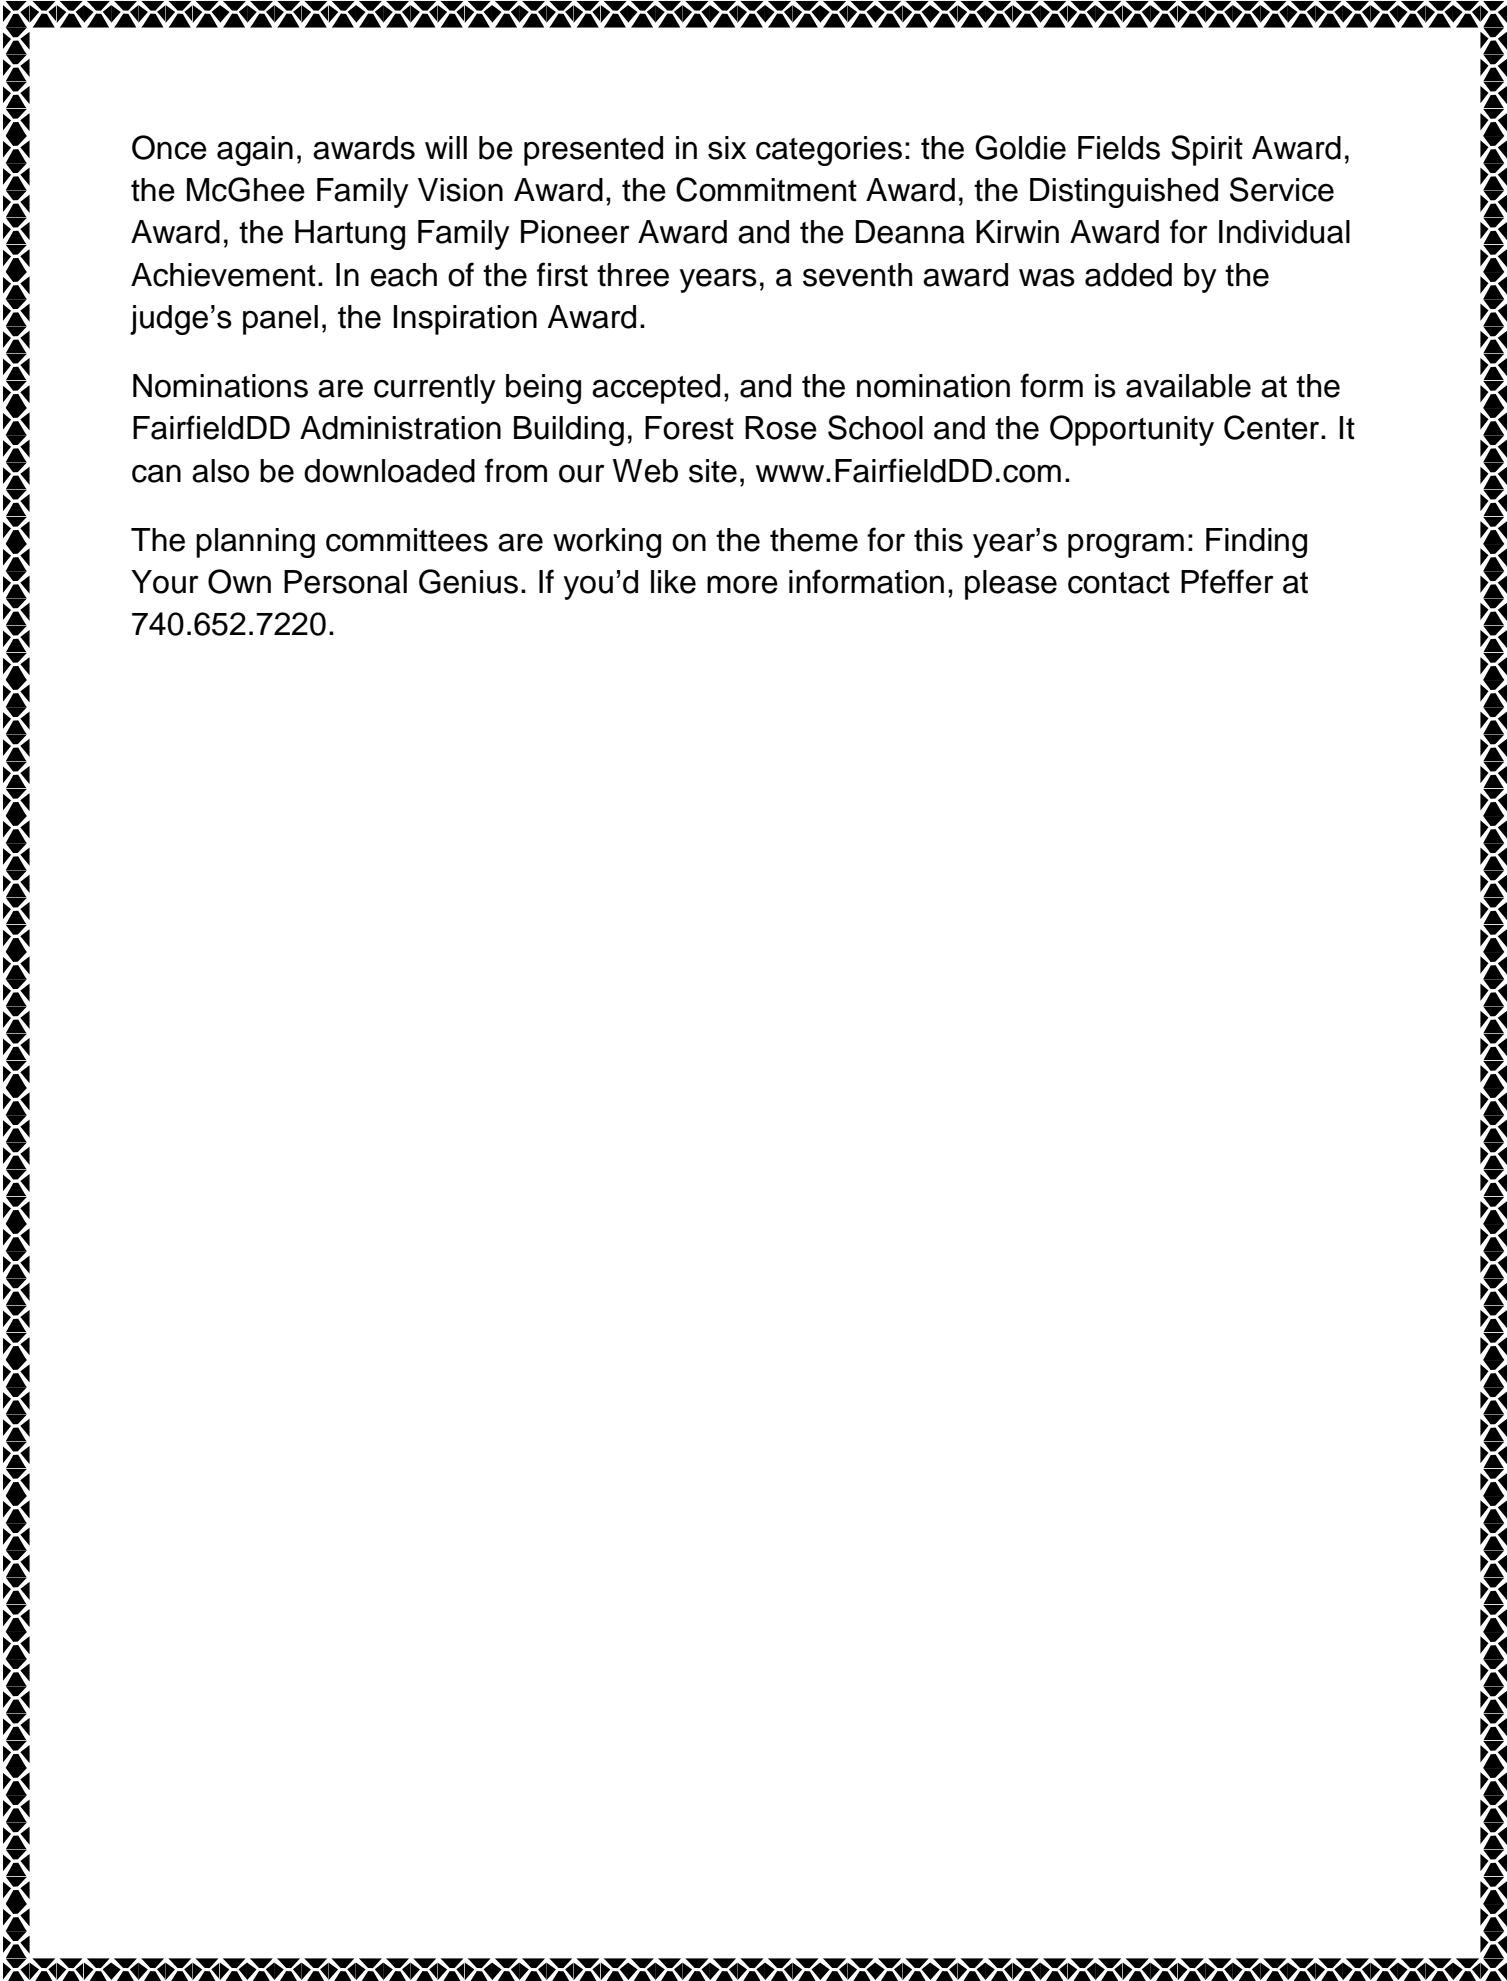

4th Annual FairfieldDD Celebration of Possibilities Scheduled for March 29, 2012

Mark your calendar for Thursday, March 29, and 6 p.m. That's when we'll begin our 4th Annual Celebration of Possibilities. Only this time, it will be at a new venue: the larger and more versatile Crossroads Center.

Located at 2095 W. Fair Ave., Lancaster, the Crossroads Center will give us more room to increase the number of guests, and it will give us more flexibility for both dinner preparation and production value.

"We've been very fortunate that each year, we've been able to do something different and make each Celebration memorable," said Gaynor Pfeffer, who coordinates each of the planning committees for the annual event.

"When we first began planning the first Celebration, we wanted to recognize our award winners for their commitment to our programs, but we also wanted to show the community everything that's good about FairfieldDD. This year will be no exception."

Once again, awards will be presented in six categories: the Goldie Fields Spirit Award, the McGhee Family Vision Award, the Commitment Award, the Distinguished Service Award, the Hartung Family Pioneer Award and the Deanna Kirwin Award for Individual Achievement. In each of the first three years, a seventh award was added by the judge's panel, the Inspiration Award.

Nominations are currently being accepted, and the nomination form is available at the FairfieldDD Administration Building, Forest Rose School and the Opportunity Center. It can also be downloaded from our Web site, www.FairfieldDD.com.

The planning committees are working on the theme for this year's program: Finding Your Own Personal Genius. If you'd like more information, please contact Pfeffer at 740.652.7220.