Protective Services Caseworker in Training

Fairfield County Job and Family Services has an exciting opportunity for a Case Worker in Training in the Child Protective Services Department. This position is the first step of a progressive training model that includes an initial orientation and training program in the field of Child Welfare to prepare the candidate to assume a Child Welfare Social Service Worker position within the agency.

A Child Welfare Social Service Worker manages a caseload of children and families, and may make the initial investigation or provide ongoing support and resources to families to ensure child safety and well-being.

Candidates must possess a bachelor's degree in Social Work or related field. Starting salary for the Case Worker in Training is $34,340, and generally quickly increases to $37,772 upon the completion of the training program and movement into a casework vacancy.

Fairfield County offers an excellent benefits package, including paid time off, affordable health insurance, and tuition reimbursement. Fairfield County participates in the Ohio Public Employee's Retirement System.

Applicants must apply online and attach a resume and cover letter by June 30, 2017.
