Commissioner Davis thanked everyone for their diligence with investment income.

Mr. Hampson continued by speaking on sales tax revenue.

Commissioner Davis added that the Annual Sales Tax graph shows a downturn at the end of the graph and that the downturn is a projection, and not an actual accounting of the revenue.

Francis Martin of Pleasantville spoke about land usage and other feasible locations for solar fields.

Fairfield County Family, Adult, and Children First Council Awarded $3,000 For Perinatal Cluster Initiative

Lancaster, Ohio – The Fairfield County Family, Adult, and Children First Council was recently awarded $3,000 from The Fairfield County Diversity, Inclusion and Empowerment Fund. This grant is provided to service underrepresented pregnant mothers and their child.

Dumitru "Raz" Sabaiduc, Executive Director of the Fairfield County Family, Adult, and Children First Council, stated, "We are grateful to the Fairfield County Foundation and Diversity, Inclusion and Empowerment Board for awarding us this grant. The funding will remove barriers and fill gaps for services and supports for pregnant mothers that are underrepresented in our community."

The Perinatal Cluster Initiative focuses on serving pregnant mothers who are impacted by substance use, mental health concerns and any other barriers that prevent mothers and their babies from having positive outcomes with their health and wellbeing. This initiative is the hub for gathering the plan of safe care data, and the writing of those plans as necessary per federal mandates.

"This is exactly the type of work that we were hoping to support when we created this fund," said Amy Eyman, CEO, Fairfield County Foundation. "We know that this effort will have a ripple effect for generations to come."

For more information about Perinatal Cluster, how you can contribute and participate in the initiative, please contact 740-652.7284 or Dumitru.sabaiduc@fairfieldcountyohio.gov

News From the Auditor's Office

The Owner Occupancy Credit

What is it?
The Owner Occupancy Credit is a program in the state of Ohio that allows property owners who live in their property to receive a 2.5% reduction credit on the property taxes for their primary residence.

Who qualifies?
To receive the tax reduction on an owner-occupied home in Ohio, you must own and occupy that home as your principal place of residence on January 1 of the year you file for the reduction. A homeowner and spouse are entitled to this credit on only one home.

How to sign up?
To enroll in the Owner Occupancy Credit program, homeowners should indicate on their property transfer form that the property will be their main residence. You can also sign up by contacting the County Auditor's Office. For questions about corrections to owner occupancy status, please call 740-652-7030. Property owners can check their owner occupancy status here.

Congressional Record for Lancaster

We appreciate our new friend, John Barr from Indianapolis, who has an interest in genealogy. He found us on LinkedIn and reached out to share a copy of a petition he obtained from the National Archives. The original "Petition of the Subscribes, Setlers on the Publick Land Between the Waters of Muskingum, and Sciota River" includes 351 signatures of people asking for preemptive rights to acquire land at $2 per acre based on their settlement prior to May of 1800. With this petition, there are signatures of those who were in what is now Fairfield County.

A copy of the petition is on display at the County Auditor's Office – thanks to John Barr – and will be a part of the Heritage District Tour on June 24 and June 25. The petition will be one of five stations found at the tour at 108 N. High Street. In addition to the petition, the other stations will be the history of the County Auditor's Office at 108 N. High Street; social media options of the office; the Maps of the Month; and the Amstutz Hometown Heroes mural.

Address Change

One of the most common types of correction that is reported to our office is address changes/corrections. Within the real estate site, there is now a form where individuals can request an address change or correction. Under the property report, click on Submit Mailing/Site Address Correction. Fill out your new information and simply click submit. Our office is notified of your change and can update the records accordingly. This should result in ease of understanding to the user and increased efficiency within the office.

Strategic Themes

The five Strategic Themes for the Auditor's Office Strategic Plan are to Provide Supervisory Support and Coaching Opportunities to Team Members; Update Financial and REA Process to Add Value; Focus on Strengths and Customer Service; Improve Communication and Outreach; and Improve Use of Technology and Records Management Processes.

Stakeholders and county residents are urged to review our strategic plan and provide feedback by emailing Rachel Elsea, our Communications Officer, at rachel.elsea@fairfieldcountyohio.gov or by filling out the contact form here.

Spring into Health

Spring brings warmer weather, greener grass, and longer days; it is a perfect time for you to get out and stretch your legs, hit the trails, or hop on you bike. Spring flowers are already popping up along the bike trails and hiking paths. Getting some exercise while enjoying the beauty of nature helps improve your physical and mental health after a long, dark, winter.

Our local farmer's markets will be opening soon with fresh spring vegetables and a chance to visit with vendors, friends, and neighbors. Farmer's markets are a great way to explore new foods and recipes that change with the seasons.

Spring is time to clean-up! Getting out in the yard to pick up branches, prepping you flower beds, and even mowing the lawn, are all great ways to be physically active without leaving home. Follow-up with a relaxing evening walk, and you will find a new spring in your step as well!

A great place to find information about our local parks: https://visitfairfieldcounty.org/category/parks-nature/.

Spring into Healthy Eating

Written by Mary Smith, LSW, DTR, CLC
Director of WIC Services

Spring brings many beautiful sights such as flowers, butterflies, and sunshine and allows for fresh ideas and renewed energy. Making personal changes like decluttering the house, cleaning out the pantry, or gifting unused household items to those in need are also spring activities that begin to blossom this time of year.

One easy and simple step to get the ball rolling is to look through your kitchen cabinets and check expiration dates on canned goods. Getting rid of unhealthy items like candy, potato chips, and cookies and replacing them with healthier options like WIC cereals, peanut butter or whole grain brown rice, bread, and pasta can be empowering and help you kick-start your journey to a healthier you.

One way you can encourage healthy eating and facilitate strong family bonding is invite your children to help prepare family dinner. Cooking together helps develop their time management and planning skills, grows their abilities in the kitchen, and gives them an opportunity to be creative.

- A two-year-old can help throw trash away, clean off tables or counters, and rinse fresh fruits.
- A three-year-old can assist by putting toppings on a homemade pizza, tearing lettuce for a fresh salad or putting ingredients in a mixing bowl.
- Children who are 4 to 6 years old can peel hard boiled eggs or bananas, and help make sandwiches for lunch.
- 7-9 year old children can use measuring cups, scrub fresh vegetables, or use a dull knife to spread butter, mayo, or other condiments.
- If you're the parent of a pre-teen (10-13 years old) ask them to help by reading a recipe, carefully chopping ingredients, and putting dishes in the dishwasher.
- Challenge teenage children (14 to 19 years old) to help meal plan for the week, grocery shop, or even prepare a family dinner one night a week.

Regardless of how you do it, take the change in weather as your opportunity to make a change at your house, to eat healthier, to be happier, and to spend more time as a family.

Ohio Tobacco Program

Quit Line: 1-800-QUIT-NOW

Written by Alizabeth Elliott, RA
Tobacco Prevention Program Coordinator

Tobacco use remains a serious public health issue and a leading cause of preventable disease and death in the U.S.

The National Institutes of Health report an estimated 57.8 million Americans live with depression, anxiety, PTSD or some other form of mental illness and research shows a strong connection between mental health and substance use disorders with 40 percent of all cigarettes smoked by individuals who live with a mental health condition.

Individuals with co-occurring substance use and mental health concerns experience:

- a decline in overall health
- a lack of interest in wellness
- an increase in self-medication with substances other than nicotine
- an increase in dependence and addiction
- a lower perception of harm for both substance use and mental health disorders

In order to provide support and treatment to an individual, a thorough approach needs to be taken to address tobacco use disorders and underlying mental health concerns.

Ohio has the Ohio Tobacco Quit Line to help anyone who may have a tobacco use disorder and a desire to quit. This service is FREE and offers people the opportunity to interact with cessation (quit) counselors and/or receive nicotine replacement supplies including patches, gum, or lozenges to those who call.

If you or someone you know would like to quit, FCHD can help. Let today be the first step into a new journey and visit our website for more information.

Subject: [E] No solar panels

I'm emailing you to voice my concern about solar panels in our farmable land in Ohio. Please protect the land. Panels can be placed on other structures. Ex roof tops of schools, Amazon buildings, FB, Google just to name a few. Another good idea is in parking lots. Car can park underneath and it can double as a shade area for vehicles.
The loss of crops makes me sad and seeing fields of panels makes me sick to my stomach. It's a long term agreement and the panels aren't reusable. It's a lot for land fills. I'm sure you're aware of the location of panels but this is a map of Pleasantville. It's a large area for this small town.

I understand it's the farmers land but it would be nice to consider the loss of property value for others.
Thank you for your time.

Fairfield County Commissioners

Dear Fairfield County Commissioners

We are writing this letter to endorse the use of solar farms in our community. My family has been involved in agriculture in Walnut township, Fairfield County for over 70 years. We carefully reviewed the options for our land use for the future. Some of these included additional income, reducing energy costs, improved land use as well as environmental benefits.

We understand some people have concerns about the potential impact of solar farms on our agricultural community. Solar farms provide an alternative use of our agricultural land that may otherwise be at risk of being converted to commercial or residential development. By leasing our land we can help preserve the integrity of the land for future generations. Solar farms require minimal maintenance and can help reduce erosion and soil compaction which improve soil health and increases productivity when returned to agricultural use.

Solar farms provide economic benefits for community including job creation and tax benefits. This will improve the economic growth in our rural community.

In conclusion, we endorse the use of solar farms in Fairfield County and Walnut township. We believe that with careful planning and design we can minimize any negative effects and ensure that both agricultural and solar energy can coexist in harmony. We encourage you to support this initiative and work towards a brighter and more sustainable future.

Sincerely

Pamela Hutton

Re: Industrial Solar Farms in Fairfield County

Dear Fairfield Commissioners

I am against Industrial Solar Farms in Fairfield County, especially in the Walnut Township area. You have deemed Buckeye Lake a resort area with higher taxes yet Industrial Solar farms are proposed less than 6 miles from the lake.

It is my understanding that any land within a 6-mile area around the solar farms could have toxins present in the area. This means Buckeye Lake could possibly receive toxins from this project because that area drains into Buckeye Lake. The quality of surface water, ground water, including aquifers, any water source used for public consumption or recreation could be in danger.

Hazards and effects of above ground and underground construction materials, including materials degrading, noise and light pollution, fire chemical contamination, ability of radiation, glint and glare, leaching of toxins and visual buffering deficiencies of a solar array are all issues. Did you know that fire Dept. has been told if a fire breaks out they are to let it burn?

It has already been determined that property values go down for those living directly in the vicinity. This is putting a hardship of those directly in line with the Industrial Solar Farms.

We have listened to disturbing testimony from those that have either signed a contract, (and were sorry afterwards), and those directly beside or in the vicinity of other projects in Ohio. Nothing is good about solar farms.

Did you know the average (actual sunny days) in Ohio is 72 vs. Florida having 236 days with the US average at 205. On Average, Ohio is only sunny 50% of the time.

We ask that you prohibit industrial solar farms in Walnut Township. Walnut Township should be an exclusionary zone. In fact, Ohio should be limiting the amount of Industrial Solar Farms in general. We need to keep valuable farm land in tact.

Trudy Craig

Board of Commissioners' May 2nd Meeting

The Commissioners will meet next Tuesday at 1:00 p.m., here in the Commissioners' Hearing Room due to MCJDC meetings that morning.

House Substitute Budget Bill

Indigent Defense: The House's proposal cuts funding for indigent defense reimbursement by $48 million over the biennium from the governor's proposed funding amount. The House funding amount of $145 million in each fiscal year will not be sufficient to fully reimburse counties. The Ohio Public Defender estimates this puts the reimbursement level at 78%, all factors remaining the same.

Commissioner Fix spoke about meeting with Representative LaRe and stated he has been a great advocate for the state budget.

LGF Increase: The House substitute bill did not contain an increase in the LGF and included a significant income tax cut. The income tax cut without a subsequent increase in the LGF, effectively results in a decrease to the LGF. An increase in LGF funding continues to be a top priority for CCAO.

Fairfield County Workforce Center funding: $4,280,000 in fiscal year 2024 shall be distributed to Fairfield County to support building improvements, equipment purchases, and operating expenses for programs of the Fairfield County Workforce Center.

Competitive Bidding Threshold: The budget bill now includes provisions increasing the statutory competitive bidding threshold to $75,000 through CY 2024, with the threshold increasing by 3% annually thereafter. It further increases the allowable difference between a public improvement project's estimated cost and the contract price from 10% to 20%. These changes will help cut the administrative time that burdens the efficiency of county government due to the potential need to repeatedly put out bid notifications for smaller projects.

Budget Review

Budget Director, Bart Hampson, provided an update on the sales tax revenue estimates.

Auditor Brown stated the current estimates are very close.

ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. These definitions apply to this Agreement:

"Agreement" means this retail buyer's order.
"Buyer" means the party or parties executing this Agreement as such.
"Manufacturer" means the manufacturer of the Vehicle.
"Seller" means the Seller named on the face of this Agreement.
"Trade-in" is the used vehicle that Buyer intends to use as part of the consideration for the purchase price of the Vehicle or otherwise is to be transferred to Seller.
"Vehicle" is the vehicle or chassis that is the subject of this Agreement.

Seller is not the Manufacturer's agent. Buyer and Seller are the sole parties to this Agreement. References in this Agreement to Manufacturer are for the purpose of describing certain contractual relationships between the Manufacturer and Seller relating to new vehicles.

2. The Manufacturer may change the price of new vehicles without notice. If the Manufacturer changes the price of the new vehicle of the series and body type of the Vehicle before Seller delivers it to Buyer, Seller may change the price of the Vehicle to Buyer as the law allows. If Seller changes the price of the Vehicle, Buyer may cancel this Agreement and Seller shall return the Trade-in to Buyer if the Trade-in remains available. Buyer agrees to pay Seller reasonable repair charges. If Seller has already sold the Trade-in, the Seller will pay the Buyer the proceeds of the sale less any reasonable expenses incurred in connection with preparing or reconditioning the Trade-in for sale and any prior credit balance paid by Seller to a prior lienholder on behalf of Buyer. If the vehicle was a lease turn-in and Seller has already paid the prior lease balance, Buyer will owe Seller the amount paid on Buyer's behalf. If the prior credit or lease balance exceeds the proceeds of sale (less expenses), you will owe Seller the excess amount upon request.

3. The Trade-in shall be appraised or re-appraised at the time it is delivered to Seller. The appraised value will be the allowance for the Trade-in. If the reappraised value is lower than the amount shown in this Agreement, Buyer may cancel this Agreement. Buyer must exercise Buyer's right to cancel upon a change in the appraised value before Seller delivers the Vehicle to Buyer and Buyer surrenders the Trade-in to Seller.

4. Buyer shall give Seller the certificate of title or satisfactory evidence of title to any Trade-in upon delivery to Seller. Buyer warrants any Trade-in to be Buyer's property, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances unless otherwise noted in this Agreement, and that the Trade-in has never had a salvage or "branded" title, been reconstructed, rebuilt, flooded or had major mechanical damage that caused the reconstruction of the Trade-in. Buyer represents that the Trade-in's mileage shown in this Agreement is the actual mileage on the Trade-in and that all emission control equipment on the vehicle has not been tampered with and is operational. Buyer authorizes Seller to rely on this representation in entering into this Agreement. If Buyer provides false information related to the Trade-in Buyer agrees to repurchase the Trade-in for the full allowance given to Buyer plus all costs incurred by Seller in resolving the matter including but not limited to reconditioning costs, legal fees, court and collection costs.

5. Except as permitted under Sections 2 or 3 above, if Buyer fails or refuses to accept delivery of the Vehicle or comply with this Agreement, without limiting any other rights Seller may have, Seller may reimburse itself for any expenses and losses it incurs or suffers as a result of Buyer's failure or refusal to comply with this Agreement, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees. Seller isn't liable for failure to deliver or delay in delivering the Vehicle where such failure or delay is due, in whole or in part, to any cause beyond Seller's control or without Seller's fault or negligence.

6. The Vehicle price doesn't include sales taxes, use taxes or other taxes (federal, state or local) unless expressly so stated. Buyer agrees to pay all taxes prohibited by law, any such taxes imposed

7. If this Agreement shows a charge for credit insurance, this paragraph applies. The credit insurance provisions in any retail installment sale contract Buyer may sign related to this Agreement will apply. If such credit insurance is wholly or partially unavailable under the designated policy, Seller will deduct the applicable part of the credit insurance charge shown in this Agreement and the related finance charge from the total time balance. If such credit insurance does not become effective, Seller will notify Buyer. This Agreement and any related retail installment sale contract Buyer may sign shall otherwise remain fully effective, to the extent provided by applicable law.

8. Buyer agrees to sign such agreements or documents as Seller may reasonably require to effect the transfer of title, the terms and conditions of payment shown in this Agreement and to otherwise carry out the intent of this Agreement.

9. If there is a balance due, and Buyer will obtain financing from a third party, this paragraph applies. Buyer's obligation to buy and Seller's obligation to sell the Vehicle are expressly conditioned upon Buyer obtaining financing for the balance due. Buyer has three business days from the date of this Agreement to obtain such financing. If Buyer fails to obtain financing, this Agreement is canceled and Seller has no obligation to sell Buyer the Vehicle.

10. If Buyer pays Seller with a check that is dishonored or other payment (credit card, debit card, electronic) that is unpaid for any reason, Seller may, in its sole discretion, declare this Agreement null and void and retake the Vehicle and/or make claims against Buyer on the check. In addition, Buyer will pay Seller a returned check charge of $20 for any check Buyer gives that is dishonored and any costs incurred by Seller to recover the Vehicle.

11. Buyer may arrange financing through Seller or a finance source of Buyer's choosing. Buyer may be able to obtain more favorable financing from a third party. Buyer understands the annual percentage rate (APR) quoted by Seller may be negotiable. If this Agreement shows that any part of the transaction is to be financed, Seller may assist in submitting credit applications to third parties, for which Buyer grants permission. Seller will not lend Buyer money or finance this transaction regardless of any notation to the contrary on any document. No agent, employee or manager of Seller may change this policy.

12. In the event that any of the terms and conditions of this Agreement are inconsistent with the terms and conditions of any retail installment sale contract between Buyer and Seller, the terms of such retail installment sale contract shall apply. Each provision of this Agreement shall be severable. If any part of this Agreement is deemed or found to be unenforceable for any reason, the rest shall remain enforceable.

13. Used Car Buyers Guide. The information you see on the window form for this vehicle is part of this contract. information on the window form overrides any contrary provisions in the contract of sale.

Spanish Translation: Guía para compradores de vehículos usados. La información que ve en el formulario de la ventanilla para este vehículo forma parte del presente contrato. La información del formulario de la ventanilla deja sin efecto toda disposición en contrario contenida en el contrato de venta.

14. IT IS BUYER'S RESPONSIBILITY TO OBTAIN INSURANCE ON THE VEHICLE. By signing this agreement, except as otherwise provided in Seller's Right to Cancel, Buyer covenants and agrees that Buyer has obtained, or will obtain insurance on the Vehicle, before the Vehicle is driven by anyone.

15. Buyer agrees that Seller may try to contact Buyer in writing, by e-mail, or using prerecorded/artificial voice messages, text messages, and automatic telephone dialing systems for servicing and collection, but not marketing, as the law allows. Buyer also agrees that Seller may try to contact Buyer in those and other ways at any address or telephone number Buyer provides Seller, even if the telephone number is a cell phone number or the contact results in a charge to Buyer.

5. Except as permitted under Sections 2 or 3 above, if Buyer fails or refuses to accept delivery of the Vehicle or comply with this Agreement, without limiting any other rights Seller may have, Seller may reimburse itself for any expenses and losses it incurs or suffers as a result of Buyer's failure or refusal to comply with this Agreement, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees. Seller isn't liable for failure to deliver or delay in delivering the Vehicle where such failure or delay is due, in whole or in part, to any cause beyond Seller's control or without Seller's fault or negligence.

6. The Vehicle price doesn't include sales taxes, use taxes or other taxes (federal, state or local) unless expressly so stated. Buyer agrees to pay, unless prohibited by law, any such taxes imposed on or that apply to the transaction reflected by this Agreement, regardless of who has primary liability for the tax.

14. IT IS BUYER'S RESPONSIBILITY TO OBTAIN INSURANCE ON THE VEHICLE. By signing this agreement, except as otherwise provided in Seller's Right to Cancel, Buyer covenants and agrees that Buyer has obtained, or will obtain insurance on the Vehicle, before the Vehicle is driven by anyone.

15. Buyer agrees that Seller may try to contact Buyer in writing, by e-mail, or using prerecorded/artificial voice messages, text messages, and automatic telephone dialing systems for servicing and collection, but not marketing, as the law allows. Buyer also agrees that Seller may try to contact Buyer in those and other ways at any address or telephone number Buyer provides Seller, even if the telephone number is a cell phone number or the contact results in a charge to Buyer.

Right to Cancel (applies if Buyer(s) signs RIGHT TO CANCEL on the front page)

a. Seller agrees to deliver the Vehicle to you on the date the Retail Installment Sale Contract is signed by Seller and you. You understand that it may take a few days for Seller to verify your credit, locate financing for you on the exact terms shown on the front of the Retail Installment Sale Contract, and assign the Retail Installment Sale Contract to a financial institution. You agree that Seller has the number of days stated on the front of this Agreement and the Retail Installment Sale Contract to assign the Retail Installment Sale Contract. You agree that if Seller is unable to assign the Retail Installment Sale Contract within this time period to any one of the financial institutions with whom Seller regularly does business under an assignment acceptable to Seller, you or Seller may cancel the Retail Installment Sale Contract. The right to cancel the Retail Installment Sale Contract ends upon assignment of the Retail Installment Sale Contract or the end of the stated time period.

b. If Seller elects to cancel per Paragraph a. above, Seller will give you written notice (or in any other manner in which actual notice is given to you).

c. Upon receipt of the notice of cancellation or if you cancel the Retail Installment Sale Contract, you must return the Vehicle to Seller immediately in the same condition as when sold other than reasonable wear for the time you had it. Except as described below, Seller must give you back all consideration Seller has received from you in connection with the Retail Installment Sale Contract. If Seller has already sold the Trade-in, Seller will pay the Buyer the proceeds of the sale less any reasonable expenses incurred in connection with preparing or reconditioning the Trade-in for sale and any prior credit balance paid by Seller to a prior lienholder on behalf of Buyer.

d. If you do not return the Vehicle immediately after receipt of the notice of cancellation or upon your cancellation, you agree that Seller may use any lawful means to take it back (including repossession if done peacefully) and you will be liable for all expenses incurred by Seller in taking the Vehicle from you.

e. While the Vehicle is in your possession, all terms of the Retail Installment Sale Contract, including those relating to use of the Vehicle and insurance for the Vehicle, are in full force and you assume all risk of loss or damage to the Vehicle. You must pay all reasonable costs for repair of any damage done to the Vehicle while the Vehicle is in your possession. Seller may deduct from any consideration due to you under paragraph c. above Seller's reasonable costs to repair the Vehicle. If you or Seller cancels the Retail Installment Sale Contract, the terms of this Seller's Right to Cancel provision (including those on the front of this Order and Agreement and as provided in the Retail Installment Sale Contract) remain in effect even after you no longer have possession of the Vehicle.

REPORT HIGHLIGHTS SMARTER LAND USE PLANNING TO PROTECT AGRICULTURE

June 29, 2022 Country Life, Top Headlines

Smart growth and investment in America's downtowns and main streets must occur now to secure the land that grows our food, according to American Farmland Trust's new report Farms Under Threat 2040: Choosing an Abundant Future and the accompanying web mapping tool.

"It is urgent we safeguard the land that grows our food," said Mitch Hunter, AFT research director and lead author of the report. "In recent years, the global food system has been severely disrupted by the coronavirus pandemic, the war in Ukraine, and widespread drought — pushing millions more people into severe hunger. The mounting effects of climate change and the rising global population will make it ever harder to ensure a stable food supply in the coming decades."

AFT's Farms Under Threat research has shown Americans are paving over agricultural land at a rapid pace. From 2001-16, our nation lost or compromised 2,000 acres of farmland and ranchland every day. Farms Under Threat 2040 shows we are on track to convert over 18 million acres of farmland and ranchland from 2016-40 — an area the size of South Carolina. And it could get worse. If rural sprawl accelerates, America could squander 1 million acres of agricultural land every year and over 24 million by 2040. But if Americans choose a better path — with smart growth to minimize sprawl — up to 13.5 million acres of the nation's irreplaceable farmland and ranchland can be saved for food production.

Sprawling cities, climate change, energy development and remote work are converging to threaten the land that grows food, jeopardizing the nation's food security and the environment. Simultaneously, an aging farming population is retiring, potentially leaving 40% of America's agricultural land with an uncertain future.

Farms Under Threat is AFT's multi-year effort to advance cutting-edge solutions for farmland protection. AFT uses high-resolution spatial analysis tools to identify where agricultural land has been converted to urban and low-density residential land uses. The 2040 report projects this data into the future to present three alternative development scenarios — Business as Usual, Runaway Sprawl and Better Built Cities. The report shows that development choices have a significant effect on the future of farmland and ranchland and urges Americans to embrace Better Built Cities to safeguard local farms and ranches, bolster the global food system and improve peoples' daily lives.

Better Built Cities is not just about saving farmland. Smart growth aims to make life better for folks living in cities and suburbs. Businesses can thrive on walkable main streets, and families can live close to their daily destinations. A variety of transportation options including walking, biking and public transit can help reduce air pollution from cars while saving people — and cities — money. Neighborhoods are more livable, with a variety of housing types and price ranges. Parks and greenways exist for recreation and respite, and abundant rural lands exist nearby to provide local food and access to nature.

"America will need more development in the coming decades as the population grows. Indeed, many states currently face a severe shortage of affordable housing. Compact development is the best way to address this need — and also the key to saving farmland and ranchland," Hunter said. "Likewise, we must meet our growing energy demand with renewable energy that benefits agriculture and rural communities — what AFT calls smart solar. We will also need to establish programs to bring a new generation of farmers and ranchers on the land to produce food and steward the environment, as America's aging farming population retires."

Every American can help. Better Built Cities, the report explains, sees policymakers and land-use planners banding together with farmers, ranchers and concerned citizens. Developers can choose to revitalize urban spaces and build compact communities. Citizens can attend county board meetings and promote land-use decisions that protect farmland and ranchland. Individuals can also support local land trusts, buy locally produced food and choose to live in compact cities and town centers. Farmland and ranchland owners can protect their property with a permanent agricultural conservation easement which restricts development and guarantees their land becomes a legacy that feeds future generations.

The report explains realities and choices, mapped and analyzed.Citizens can view impacts to their communities and read about potential solutions, what they should ask of their government officials, and ways they can participate.

"Agricultural lands in the U.S. grow an astounding array of food, fiber, biofuels and other raw materials. This abundance has made the U.S. one of the most food-secure nations in the world. Yet it can also mask vulnerabilities. For too many Americans, it is easy to brush off farmland loss or view it as inevitable. This puts our future at risk," said John Piotti, AFT president and CEO. "We need farmland not just to feed a growing population, but to provide essential ecological services that nurture wildlife, cleanse water and capture atmospheric carbon. If we remain on our current development path, we will ultimately run out of land to grow our food; but long before that, I fear we will run out of the farmland we need to heal an environmentally degraded planet."

The report also outlines steps that can be taken at different levels of government.

Local government

• Smart growth: Create comprehensive plans, embrace zoning approaches that encourage compact growth, and proactively plan for agriculture.

• Farmland protection: Identify agricultural resources and protect the agricultural land identified as a community priority.

• Smart solar: Incorporate smart solar siting into local land-use decisions; develop solar land-use laws and permitting through inclusive processes; ensure solar strengthens farm viability; and ensure best practices for soil health are followed when siting solar on farmland.

• Farmland access: Make municipal and county-owned lands available for agriculture and help match farm seekers with agricultural landowners.

State government

• Smart growth: Adopt smart-growth principles within state agencies, support local alignment with state smart-growth goals, and plan for agriculture across state agencies.

• Farmland protection: Identify priority agricultural resources, require mitigation for conversion, accelerate farmland protection efforts, incentivize keeping land in agricultural use, and enact the Uniform Partition of Heirs' Property Act to address heirs' property issues.

• Smart solar: Incentivize solar development on the built environment, previously disturbed, and marginal agricultural land; require mitigation for solar that displaces farming from productive agricultural land; and provide guidance and resources to communities for smart solar, including best practices for construction and decommissioning. Fund research on dual-use solar (agrivoltaics) and, pending proof of concept, define and incentivize it.

• Farmland access: Invest in land access and farm transfer assistance to landowners and farm seekers, including FarmLink programs. Establish transition incentives, address farmland affordability through state farmland protection programs, and make state-owned land available for leasing to producers.

Federal government

• Smart growth: Provide additional support for smart-growth planning and implementation grants, couple broadband funding with support for community planning, and encourage rehabilitation and conversion of commercial spaces.

• Farmland protection: Increase funding for USDA's Agricultural Conservation Easement Program (ACEP) and improve its function, strengthen the Farmland Protection Policy Act, and increase funding for the Heirs' Property Relending Program.

• Smart solar: Incentivize solar development on existing structures, brownfields, and marginal lands; fund research on best practices for developing solar on agricultural lands, including advancing dual-use; equip local, state, and regional leaders with smart solar resources; and expand interagency cooperation.

• Farmland access: Create tax incentives for lifetime farm transfers, improve Buy-Protect-Sell in Agricultural Land Easements, provide additional support for business technical assistance that includes farm transfer, and allow producers to reduce Farm Service Agency debt in exchange for keeping land in agriculture.

Commissioners Davis, Fix, and Levacy,

When you purchase any real property in Ohio, you can expect there to be certain limitations placed on the property by the local township, municipality, or even a homeowners' association. These rules were put in place to assure property values cannot be degraded by that neighbor who refuses to mow his lawn or wants to put a car on blocks in the front yard. Sometimes the rules are to assure safety for the community by requiring a fence around a swimming pool or being sure to place buildings far enough from the property lines or a road way to allow for vehicles to have a clear line of sight. It is so common to live by these rules that we expect them.

In Walnut township, we have zoning; a set of rules that regulate what can be built where. If you buy land in our township, you will not be surprised to find that there are zoning rules that you must abide by.

Walnut township has areas zoned "industrial". In an industrial area, 9.14 I-2 of the Walnut Township Zoning Resolution states "Any manufacturing, processing, cleaning, servicing, testing, or repairs of the following materials, goods, or products, when such uses will not be materially injurious to the occupants of adjacent premises or the community at large and where the emission or creation of noise, vibration, smoke, dust, or other particular matter, toxic and noxious materials, odors, fire or explosive hazards, glare, or heat, or electromagnetic disturbances will be minimized as much as possible."

Furthermore, 9.14 I-2 states in A. Intent, "It is the intent of the I-2 District to provide areas for general industrial and warehousing uses free from the encroachment of residential, retail, and institutional uses."

The land leased for the industrial solar projects is zoned Rural Residential. 9.2 A. Intent states "It is the intent of the RR Rural Residential District to provide for single family dwellings on large tracts within areas of open land."

The landowners and the solar developers are violating our township zoning. Certainly if we are not allowed to build a home in an area zoned for industry, how is it that industry is able to build around our homes in an area zoned Rural Residential? And by doing so, they avoid the requirement to not be "materially injurious to the occupants of the adjacent premises or the community at large", etc. *

We are the community at large. If these projects are allowed to be constructed on the prime farmland surrounding our homes, then we have no zoning.

So the "property rights" argument for why these landowners should be allowed to proceed is not valid in Walnut township. Property rights does not give anyone the right to do something detrimental to their neighbor nor their neighbor's property. So it does not give the eleven people who leased their land rights and remove the rights of those who own the eighty six parcels who share fence rows with them. The defense of the property rights argument is property rights.

Those of us who live and farm in the Rural Residential areas of Walnut township have a right to expect our neighborhood to remain Rural Residential and the Walnut Township Zoning Resolution spells it out clearly.

Respectfully,

Melissa Connor
