Fairfield County Common Pleas Court Seeking Hunters Run Conservancy District Board Members

Lancaster, Ohio – The Fairfield County Common Pleas Court is accepting resumes and applications for vacancies on the Hunters Run Conservancy District. The Hunters Run Conservancy District is a political subdivision of the state formed to solve water management problems, most frequently related to flooding or the management of dams. This District operates under the jurisdiction of the Conservancy Court in Fairfield County.

The board member positions are volunteer positions, and the Court is seeking dedicated, qualified applicants to begin serving immediately. Board meetings can be scheduled to fit the needs of the board members, and regular attendance and a commitment to furthering critical projects are required.
